ADLER MED

OUR TEAM

Our expertise to make you feel good.

MD Stefania Mazzieri

Specialist in Functional Medicine, Active Cell Nutrition and Epigenetics

Today, the "potentiative" medicine offers a truly proactive response to the need to make us stronger and more resilient facing new environmental, physical, mental and social stimuli, by strengthening our natural and physiological defenses. Thanks to detailed investigations through innovative tests and cutting-edge therapies we can optimize the biological processes correlated with cellular aging in order to maintain and improve the patient's performance and reduce the incidence of chronic diseases to finally increase longevity.

MD Michele Bianchini

Specialist in Preventive medicine, Regenerative Aesthetic Medicine, Aesthetic Dermatology and Aesthetic Surgery

Regenerative medicine is the future of aesthetic medicine. More and more, we are looking for the most beautiful version of ourselves, without distorting our features, simply shedding light on the beauty that each of us possesses and above all by relying on non-invasive treatments that reawaken the natural mechanisms for skin regeneration. A new approach to face-body rejuvenation, consistently with the trends of increasingly natural beauty.
